3 Project Summary and Reflection

As a team composed of members from different cultural backgrounds, our team encountered some communication problems in the early stages of the project, including language barriers and delays in information transmission caused by time lag, but through continuous attempts and communication, we found a suitable response plan and conducted effective collaboration. In the end, everyone completed their tasks, so that the entire project can be successfully concluded. We have gained a lot of experience in this process. We believe that we can create even better works in the future.

Project Closing and Lesson Learnt
